PRODUCT RECOMMENDATIONS

WICKED SIMPLY HYBRID

It is a myth that a woman's natural lubrication will show up on cue. So it's handy to always keep a bottle of lube nearby for when you are ready for play. Lubricant can also help if you are experiencing pain or discomfort during sex because it creates a barrier between the skin and significantly reduces friction and micro-tearing. We suggest a hybrid lubricant - either the gels or the creams - because they are very wet, and they tend to last longer because of their thicker consistency. Also, they are compatible with silicone toys.

FEMME FUN BOOSTER BULLET

A bullet is your best friend. They are small, discrete, and typically more powerful than they look. Plus, you can use it to explore pleasure points all over the body. Bullets come in all sorts of shapes and sizes and can be used with your partner or on your own. We recommend that you use it on your own first, because knowing your body and what feels good for you is essential to communicating your needs to your partner.

VIBRATING C-RING

Over 80% of women achieve orgasm by clitoral stimulation alone. Unfortunately, the clitoris is on the outside of the body and doesn't always get the attention it deserves during typical intercourse. A vibrating c-ring provides hands-free clitoral stimulation during sex, making the missionary position a lot more fun.

SEX GAMES

If you want to start exploring the vast and exciting world of sexual pleasure, but you don't know where to start, then try picking up a sex game. These games are designed to help you spice up your sex life. Sex games are also great conversation starters; not only should you talk about trying whatever the card told you to beforehand, we recommend that you talk about the experience after the fact, too. Aftercare is an essential and often overlooked part of healthy sex. Be honest and talk about it.

BDSM

BDSM gets a bad rep even though more than 40% of couples have experimented with some form of it at some point in their lives. Some people may think BDSM is about control or pain, and although that can exist, it's mostly about exploring the limits of pleasure. Try something easy, like a blindfold and some velcro restraints, and think about it as relaxing into the experience rather than fighting it. The most important parts of this kind of play are clearly communicating your wants and needs, creating limits and boundaries, and setting a safe word. Then honor those boundaries. Don't break your partner's trust because you think it's funny, or you'll risk losing access to an entire world of fetishes that you can explore together.

WE-VIBE CHORUS

We can't talk about couples' sex and not mention the number one couples toy in the world, the We-Vibe Chorus. Similar to the vibrating C-ring, the Chorus provides hands-free clitoral stimulation during sex. But, unlike the c-ring, the Chorus is worn by the woman, provides constant clitoral stimulation, and stimulates the g-spot while also gliding along the penis during intercourse. This toy does it all. It can be a party vibe, a solo toy, and it is ideal for foreplay. It's also submersible waterproof, remote-controlled, and it has an app! That's right, it has a smartphone app that allows you to do all sorts of cool stuff, but most importantly, it allows you to play with your partner from anywhere in the world.
