GUN OIL

Gun Oil is a premium silicone lubricant and the best-kept secret to great sex. Silicone lubricant is long-lasting, water-resistant, and never sticky. Due to those fantastic features, Gun Oil silicone lube is great for sex, oral sex, and masturbation. But, of course, a little goes a long way; it stays slippery forever, it is tasteless, so if you go down on him, then there's no weird taste, and the silicone lube gets even wetter and better. Plus, it's water-resistant so that you can play anywhere. Just don't use silicone lube with sex toys.

WE-VIBE VERGE

If direct prostate stimulation makes you a little uncomfortable, then try the We-Vibe Verge. The Verge is a unique vibrating c-ring designed to stimulate the prostate from outside the body. Once the ring is in place, set the vibrator between your legs against the perineum (the taint), and allow the vibrations to travel through the perineum to the root of the penis and the prostate. The Verge is so strong that the vibrations will also travel through the shaft of the penis, turning you into a literal vibrator.

ARCWAVE ION

Airpleasure isn't just for the clitoris anymore. The Arcwave Ion uses powerful air pleasure technology to stimulate the frenulum of the penis. The frenulum is the most sensitive area of the penis, located on the underside where the shaft meets the head. Stimulating the frenulum is exceptionally pleasurable and can lead to orgasm, which is precisely what the Arcwave ion does—sending bursts of air directly to the frenulum to bring him to an orgasm that experts say is the closest to a female orgasm a man can achieve.
